

NOVEMBER/ DECEMBER 2009

SEE THE FLYERS AT FENWAY PARK AND SUPPORT FLYERS CHARITIES!

Ray Emery, Braydon Coburn and Brian Boucher at Fenway Park

Bid now, and you and a guest can be part of NHL history at the 2010 NHL Bridgestone Winter Classic featuring the Flyers vs. Bruins at historic Fenway Park in Boston, Ma. on January 1. Auction includes round-trip travel for two aboard Amtrak train (from 30th Street Station), a two-night stay at the Sheraton Back Bay Boston and two tickets to the 2010 NHL Bridgestone Winter Classic Flyers-Bruins game (ticket location: Right Field Roof Box Terrace). Visit auction.nhl.com. Bidding ends December 16.

Jason Smith (left) and Samuel Dalembert (right) at NBA Cares Day

NBA CARES

The entire Sixers team and coaching staff took part in several service projects to improve West Philadelphia High School as part of NBA Cares Day (November 5). The event, which included Grammy Award-winning musician Wyclef Jean, was part of a joint effort between NBA Cares, The Timberland Company, City Year Philadelphia, and VILLA.

FLYERS CHARITIES SPARKLES AT LAGOS

Members of the Philadelphia Flyers and the Flyers Wives joined Steve Lagos, owner of LAGOS Jewelry (November 4) in the Penthouse at The Residences at Two Liberty Place, to unveil a beautiful new piece of jewelry which will benefit Flyers Charities, a division of the Comcast-Spectacor Foundation.

Lagos designed a special, limited-edition beveled sterling silver dog tag that showcases a raised Philadelphia Flyers logo. The pendant is available in three variations, one in silver, one with a gold Flyers emblem and one with the Flyers logo in orange and black gem stones. Prices range from $195 to $2,500.

Among the Flyers attendees were: Chris Pronger and wife Lauren; Ian Laperriere and wife Magali; John Stevens and wife Stacy; Scott Hartnell and wife Lisa; Doreen Holmgren, wife of Flyers General Manager Paul Holmgren; Holly Cote, wife of Flyers forward Riley Cote; and Lisa Hanrahan, wife of Flyers Assistant General Manager Barry Hanrahan.

"In these challenging economic times many individuals are not able to make significant contributions to charities and non-profit organizations that they may have done in the past," said

Colleen Ford, Customer Service Manager of LAGOS, and Steve Lagos, owner of LAGOS Jewelers, help Flyers defenseman Chris Pronger and wife Lauren during Flyers Charities Lagos charity event (November 4) to unveil limited-edition Flyers dog tag.

Comcast-Spectacor President Peter Luukko. "We're very fortunate that Steve Lagos has created an outstanding piece of jewelry that many individuals may want for the upcoming holiday season while at the same time allowing these same individuals to make a contribution to help those less fortunate."

"As a native Philadelphian, I grew up with this team. I am inspired by this organization's dedication and I'm honored to present this collection as a symbol of their hard work and goodwill both on and off the ice", said Steve Lagos, owner of LAGOS Jewelers.

In addition to the jewelry for sale, the event included special raffle prizes. Congratulations to raffle winners: Gail Lipstein, who won a Daniel Stern dinner and overnight stay at the Residences at Two Liberty Place; Thomas McCabe, who won a Jeff Carter autographed stick; and Linda Kirshner, the winner of a Lagos bracelet.

The Flyers dog tags are available at the LAGOS store located at 18th and Walnut Streets in Philadelphia, and at the Flyers Charities kiosk during all Flyers home games at the Wachovia Center. To order or for more information call Lagos at 215-567-0770 or visit www.lagos.com.

FLYERS WIVES CARNIVAL APPROACHING FAST

The new :30 second Flyers Wives Carnival commercial features Scott Hartnell (standing) "training" (from left) Mika Pyoral, James vanRiemsdyk, Danny Syvret, and Claude Giroux.

Plans continue for the 33rd Flyers Wives Fight For Lives Carnival, scheduled for Sunday, January 10, 2010, from Noon to 4:30 p.m. at the Wachovia Center. Flyers players Claude Giroux, Scott Hartnell, Mika Pyoral, Danny Syvret and James van Riemsdyk took time off the ice to film the 2010 Flyers Wives Carnival commercial. Check out the new :30 second Carnival commercial under the Multimedia menu at www.ComcastSpectacorFoundation.org.

THANK YOU KEANE ORGANIZATION!

Gretchen Rambo, Keane Organization manager, presents a generous donation on behalf of KeaneCARES to Comcast-Spectacor Foundation Senior Vice President

Mary Ann Saleski (right) (October 22). The KeaneCARES committee was founded in November 2006 with the mission of giving back to the communities where their employees work and live through various charitable and philanthropic activities, while fostering "Keane Spirit" and teamwork within the organization. Also pictured is Rambo's niece Amber Trimmer-DelPiano.

HARTNELL DONATES TO PAWS

Philadelphia Flyers forward Scott Hartnell donated a $1,500 check today to Philadelphia Animal Welfare Society (P.A.W.S.), located at 2nd and Arch Street in Philadelphia. Hartnell received the check from the Philadelphia Flyers Fan Club for winning the Gene Hart Award, which is given annually to the Flyer who plays with the most "heart," as voted by the Fan Club. The award honors the memory of longtime Flyers broadcaster Gene Hart. From left to right: Robin Ackerman (foster care manager), Hartnell (holding Jack) and Allison Lamond (adoption center manager).

SHOP FOR A CAUSE AT SCARLETT ALLEY

ScarlettAlley

Just in time for holiday shopping, Scarlett Alley gift gallery (241 Race Street, Philadelphia, PA) held a special Shopping Party (December 2). Fifteen percent of sales during the party benefitted the Comcast-Spectacor Foundation. Didn't make it to the store, you can still shop online at www.scarlettalley.com and use the code "CSF" from now until Thursday, December 31, to help support the Comcast-Spectacor Foundation.

COMMUNITY CORNER

Attending the Ovarian Cancer Research Fund luncheon (September 17) at Drumthwacket, the New Jersey Governor's Mansion, are (from left) Heather Hatcher, wife of Flyers Player Development Coach Derian Hatcher, Dara Marcozzi, Chair of New Jersey Governor's Ovarian Cancer Workgroup and Susan Bass Levin, Deputy Director of the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey. The event helped raise awareness for ovarian cancer research and celebrated ovarian cancer survivors such as Marcozzi and Bass Levin.

SIXERS PLAYERS HELP SPREAD THE WORD ...NOT GERMS

Sixers players Thaddeus Young and Samuel Dalembert, along with Head Coach Eddie Jordan, and Assistant Coach Mike O'Koren, were on hand at Stonehurst Hills Elementary School in Upper Darby to participate in a "Gerbusters" assembly. In conjunction with Main Line Health, the Sixers spoke to kids about the importance of washing their hands to stay healthy during the Sixers Paint the Town Day.

Sixers Forward Elton Brand signs a basketball for a fan at a BP Gas Station in Northeast Philadelphia. Brand and teammates Lou Williams, Jason Kapono, Primož Brezec, and Jrue Holiday pumped complimentary gas to the first 76 cars, as a part of Sixers Paint the Town Day.

Sixers Guard Andre Iguodala speaks to a group of young adults from the Covenant House as a part of Sixers Paint the Town Day. Iguodala along with teammates Rodney Carney, Royal Ivey, Marreese Speights, Jason Smith, and Willie Green mingled with the residents and gave out free chicken dinner's compliments of KFC.

SPECTRUM SEAT SALES HELP SUPPORT COMCAST-SPECTACOR FOUNDATION

Now you can own a piece of the Spectrum and help a good cause at the same time. Comcast-Spectacor is now taking orders for fans wishing to own souvenir seats from the Spectrum, exclusively through RememberTheSpectrum.com or by phone by calling 215-952-5691.

A pair of seats can be reserved for $395 while a single seat can be reserved for $295. The Spectrum folding chairs will also be available for $195. A portion of the proceeds benefits the Comcast-Spectacor Foundation.

Comcast-Spectacor Foundation, the charitable arm of the Philadelphia-based sports and entertainment firm Comcast-Spectacor, is committed to improving the quality of life in the Greater Philadelphia Region through contributions, donations, player appearances and random gifts of kindness on behalf of the company's entities, which include the Philadelphia 76ers, the Philadelphia Flyers, the Wachovia Complex, Comcast SportsNet Philadelphia & Global Spectrum. Since its inception, the Comcast-Spectacor Foundation has contributed nearly $21 million to charity. Comcast-Spectacor is a member of the Comcast Family of Companies.

The principal focus of the Foundation is to support non-profit organizations that provide educational and recreational resources to underserved youth and to causes that engage in medical research and other important healthcare initiatives. Visit www.ComcastSpectacorFoundation.org for more information.

FOLLOW  FLYERS ON  @FlyersCharities